THE Country Girl that's well inclin'd
To love, when the young Squire grows kind,
Doubts between Joy and Ruin;
Now will, and now will not comply,
To Raptures now her Pulse beats high,
And now she fears undoing.

But when the Lover with his Prayers,
 His Oaths, his Sighs, his Vows and Tears,
 Holds out the proffer'd Treasure ;
 She quite forgets her Fear and Shame,
 And quits her Virtue, and Good-Name,
 For Profit mixt with Pleasure.

So virtuous P——, who had long
 By Speech, by Pamphlet, and by Song,
 Held Patriotism's Steerage,
 Yields to Ambition mixt Gain,
 A Treasury gets for H—— V——,
 And for himself a Peerage.

Tho' with joint Lives and Debts before,

H——'s Estate was cover'd o'er,

This Irisb Place repairs it ;

Unless that Story should be true,

That he receives but Half his Due,

And the new C——s shares it.

'Tis said, besides, that t'other H——

Pays Half the Fees of Secretary

To B—— ennobl'd Doxy ;

If so —— good Use of Pow'r she makes,

The Treasury of each Kingdom takes,

And holds them both by Proxy.

And leaves the noisy H — of C —
Amongst the L — to nod ;
Where, if he's better than of old,
His Hand, perhaps, a Stick may hold,
But never more a Rod.

As innocent as any P —
As prompt for any Jobb ;
For now he's popular no more,
Has lost the Power he had before,
And his best Frinds, the Mob.

Their Fav'rites shou'dn't soar so high,
 They fail him when too near the Sky,
 Like Icarus's Wings ;
 And Popularity is such,
 As still is ruined by the Touch
 Of gracious-giving Kings.

Here then, O B—— ! thy Empire ends,
A——le shall with his Tory Friends
 Soon better Days restore ;
 For Enoch's Fate and thine are one,
 Like him translated, thou art gone
 Ne'er to be heard of more.
